Better: the simple way to get paid back by your health insurance.

The App	Better makes it simple to get paid back by your health insurance. If you see a healthcare professional that doesn't accept your insurance, just take a photo of your bill with the app. Better works with your insurance to get you your money back.
Get paid back	Getting paid back for out-of-network health cares is often a complex process that can frustrate anyone to the point of giving up. With Better, claims can be filed in seconds. Better corrects coding errors, follows-up with insurance, and make sure that your claims are correctly paid back.
All your bills	Better works for anyone with bills from healthcare providers that do not accept their insurance. Better can process claims for visits to any type of healthcare provider including doctors, therapists, psychiatrists, acupuncturists, chiropractors, dentists, laboratories, and pharmacies.
Cost	Better charges 10% of the money you get back. If a claim is applied to the your deductible or cannot be covered by insurance, the service is free. Better is dedicating 100% of their revenue to purchase and forgive $16 million in medical debt for those in need. For each claim processed, an American struggling with medical debt is helped.
Company	Founded in 2016 by Rachael Norman and John Stockdale, Better's mission is to make healthcare simple. Their team works with health insurance companies all day, everyday to make sure people get back the money they are owed. To date, Better has raised $1.1M from Silicon Valley venture firms Initialized Capital and Designer Fund. Better is HIPAA-compliant and works with any insurance.
